Ms. Hölz has extensive expertise in investor protection, public affairs, and corporate governance, among other areas. Furthermore, she has extensive experience, also on a European level, as a financial expert, in capital markets and corporate law as well as in sustainability issues.

Christiane Hölz is the full-time Managing Director of Deutsche Schutzvereinigung für Wertpapierbesitz e.V. (DSW). The statutory task of DSW is to protect both the material and non-material interests of investors in securities. The DSW also represents the interests of its members by serving on their Supervisory Boards. The time availability and flexibility of Christiane Hölz in the performance of Supervisory Board mandates must also be seen against this background. The assumption of Supervisory Board mandates is therefore not ancillary to her work for DSW, but is rather an integral part of DSW's statutory duties. This is also expressly stipulated in labor law. At the same time, it is ensured that she can always fulfill her mandate independently.
