

Chronicle of the Friedrichshall I tailings pile cover

1905	Start of salt mining for the production of potash products
1906 - 1981	Extraction and processing of potash crude salt at the Friedrichshall plant
1982	Shutdown of the mine and dismantling of the site
1985 - 1988	First attempts at covering the tailings pile with material from the expansion of the Mittelland Canal
1994	Application for a special operating plan to cover the northern part of the Friedrichshall potash tailings pile
1995	Construction of a construction waste recycling plant (RC plant), between the Mittelland Canal and the southern foot of the tailings pile
1996	Approval of a special operating plan to cover the northern side of the Friedrichshall tailings pile with soil and construction waste
2009	Application for approval of an outline operating plan for covering the Friedrichshall tailings pile construction waste
2010	Approval of the general operating plan for the complete covering of the tailings pile with soil and construction waste
2022	The Friedrichshall tailings pile is completely covered